Here is that link again, Rob. It's the same link as before, I am just resending it because I have made all the changes I've received so far—including text that will link to the news release, based on Rich Mylott's message of yesterday afternoon.

Hi Bill –

I wasn't able to open the link with the test page. I'm traveling in MT right now, so that might be why (?). Thanks for making the edits to the website. If you could incorporate the edits from Mark and Cynthia as well (if you haven't already), I'd appreciate it.

Regarding Mark's comments on the table, I've edited them (attached document) so they align a bit better with the narrative. I edited the title of one of the media in the table as well. Could you make these changes?

In regard to the specific language discussed in the forwarded email, I'd suggest saying "will be available" as the documents are not going to be available when the website goes live. Could we switch it to "are available once the documents make it to the library?"

Last but not least, Cynthia and I had a follow up conversation and think that it'd be best only to post the letters from the Governor and the Mayor. So I deleted the text associated with the other letters we were considering sending.

Thanks again Bill for your help! I'll be back in the office tomorrow morning, probably between 10 and 10:30. Feel free to give me a call if any issues come up.

Rob

Thanks, Mark. I only have one change to your edits. I think the first sentence of the third paragraph should read, "Records used in making this proposed Superfund listing are available at the following locations:"

Bill and Rob,
Here's my redline version with suggested edits to the website update. Thanks for asking me to review. The biggest thing I noticed in my review is that the lists of contaminants in the tables and the narratives are not consistent.

Hey Mark –

Would you mind taking a look through the website update that we're hoping to release next Tuesday? It'll be ideal to provide the language to Bill Cooper with OCPI by Monday afternoon. Sorry for the short notice.
The website is: <http://www2.epa.gov/region8/columbia-falls-aluminum-reduction-plant>

We're planning on posting the FR notice, and support letters from Gov Bullock and Columbia Falls Mayor Barnhart. The update mentions other letters as well, but we don't intend to post them after additional consideration.

Thanks,
Rob

Rob, I did a cursory review, and attached are my edits. I'm going to take a hard copy home with me and take a better look over the weekend. I'll get back to you and Bill before I leave on Monday if I find anything else.

You might want to run this by Mark before we go live, too.

Thanks!

Hi Bill and Cynthia –

I've attached an update for the Columbia Falls Aluminum (aka Anaconda Aluminum) website. I've tracked changes from the current web page. Please take a look and provide any feedback you have. Under the site documents section, I've proposed adding the FR notice and letters of support. The letters can be found here: <I:\30 Day Share\Parker\Columbia Falls Aluminum\Website Documents>

The Federal Register Notice is not yet available; I will let you know when it is available.

Bill - Is it possible to have the website set up in a staging area and then make it live when we send out a press release next Tuesday?

Thanks,
Rob
